1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suematsu.

U.S. Patent No. 4,439,482. Suematsu discloses that it is known to form adhesive tapes comprising warps and wefts of polyester fibers which are coated with pressure sensitive adhesive wherein the warp and weft fibers have different deniers so that they have different strengths in order to allow the tape to be easily torn. See col. 1, line 38 - col. 2, line 5. Suematsu differs from the claimed invention because it does not disclose the claimed dtex/cm, strength or dtex.

However, since Suematsu does teach that the warp and weft should have different strength and denier in order to produce a tape which is easily tearable, Suematsu recognizes the denier of a fiber as a result effective variable. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have selected the particular dtex, dtex/cm and strength of the fibers through the process of routine experimentation in order to arrive at a tape having the optimal tearability and strength. The use of protective release layers is conventional in the art.
